CAPITAL GOSSIP AND PROVINCIAL NEWS

Seed Cleaning Plant

Great interest is being shown by the United States Department of Agriculture in the new government co-operative seed grain marketing plan, which is being installed by the seed branch of the Department of Agriculture under the supervision of W. J. Stephen, crops commissioner. Mr. Stephen has received a letter from the federal grain supervisor of the U.S. Department, asking for particulars of the plan. The scheme is proving of great interest to the farmers of the province. Over 4000 bushels of seed grain have already been shipped to the plant, and much more is expected. The cleaning plant is about to be installed, and will be of a modern type. It is emphasized by officials of the department, that it is the purpose of the department only to handle the surplus seed grain, that cannot be handled by the farmers themselves.

Interested in Alberta

During the past week the official Alberta party in charge of the government exhibit shown at fairs in western states returned to the city. The exhibit was in charge of C. G. Groff, chief publicity commissioner, and was accompanied by A. W. Foley and Frank Peterson. The exhibit was shown at the midland empire fair at Billings, Montana, at the state fair at Salt Lake City, Utah, and also at Twin Falls, Idaho. Officials also paid a visit to the state fair of Colorado at Pueblo. A large number of people viewed the exhibit and were given information and literature on Alberta, chiefly in connection with the irrigated lands of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation district, which the government has undertaken to colonize. A good many prospective immigrants were interviewed.

New Rate for Cream Shippers

As a result of action taken before the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, by Alfred Chard, freight supervisor for the provincial government, in behalf of the Alberta Dairy-men's Association, a new rate has been established by the express companies for three-gallon can shipments of cream. Previously the minimum insisted upon by the express companies was a five-gallon can. Under the new arrangement three-gallon cans will be accepted, and this will be of much benefit to small shippers. The rate established is 83 and one-third per cent, of the rate for five-gallon cans. While the schedule applies to the National Railways and the C. P. R., the same proportionate reduction will be put into effect on the railways north of Edmonton. The schedule is as follows:

Not over 25 miles — 15 cents.
Not over 50 miles — 18 cents.
Not over 75 miles — 22 cents.
Not over 100 miles — 26 cents.
Not over 150 miles — 34 cents.
Not over 200 miles — 42 cents.
Not over 250 miles — 50 cents.
Not over 300 miles — 58 cents.
Not over 350 miles — 66 cents.
Not over 400 miles — 74 cents.

Capacity cans must be legibly marked on the can with not less than one-inch figure. Cans must not be more than 16 inches high nor less than 10 1/2 inches in diameter at the bottom.

The bottom of the three-gallon can must be so constructed as to permit piling on top of other cans.

Using New Irrigation Project

Farmers along the new United irrigation project near Cardston are now using the water in the project for fall irrigation. The new project, built under provincial government guarantee of bonds, irrigates 17,000 acres south-west of Lethbridge, near Cardston.

New Silver Fox Farm

Alberta has become a popular place for the establishment of silver fox farms. The latest is south-west of Calgary, and a consignment of 130 pairs of foxes, valued at $250,000 reached this farm the past week from New Brunswick.

Will Tour The U. S.

The band of the Edmonton Great War Veterans Association, numbering 35 pieces, will leave on November 28, on a special tour of the United States, having contracts to play in 143 towns and cities.

Provincial Seed Fair

Arrangements are now being made for the annual provincial seed fair, and a convention of seed growers of the province to be held during the U. F. A. convention in Edmonton the week of January 16 to 20. Entries for the seed fair are to be in not later than January 10. A new feature this year will be the boys and girls section, in which prizes will be offered to boys and girls who have won first or second prizes in the school fairs during this year. Prizes will also be offered for collections of noxious weeds, to boys and girls not over 17 years of age, the samples to be properly mounted and named. There will also be prizes for essays of 300 words, on weed control and eradication. In addition to this there will be a grain judging competition open to teams of three each of the second year boys in the agricultural schools. On the last day of the fair there will be an auction sale of seed grain sold off sample. At the seed fair the formation of a provincial seed growers' organization for the handling of registered seed will be considered. A program is also being arranged of addresses on all phases of agriculture, chiefly on field husbandry and an effort is being made.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE:

Changes of copy for local advertisements must be in The Times office not later than 4 p.m. on Tuesday of the week in which such are to appear—this is essential in the publishing of the paper on time and as all advertising copy is called for by a representative of this office it should not be a hardship for advertisers to co-operate with The Times in its effort to publish early on Thursday each week.

To secure authorities on seed grain from outside the province.

The exhibition of seed will be open during the week to the public, and the judging will be done before the show is opened. The department has reserved the right to retain, for exhibit purposes, all premium grains on which first, second and third prizes have been won, on the understanding that the samples will bear the name of the exhibitor and the score card.

Thrashing Machine Registry

Up to October 30, a total of 3,717 thrashing machines had been registered in the province, a greater number than has been registered in any previous year. Owners of machines who have not yet registered with the department of agriculture should do so at once.

Heavy Wheat Shipments

During October 2,381 cars of wheat, totalling 3,095,300 bushels, passed through Calgary.

Alberta is shipping more wheat through Calgary at present than at any other period in the history of agriculture in this province, according to figures of car inspections compiled by George Hill, Dominion grain inspector.

October has eclipsed all records of wheat inspections in the same month in other years, although the month is not over yet. Saturday, October 21, saw the largest shipment of wheat passing through Calgary that ever has been handled here in one day, when 212 cars were inspected, making 275,000 bushels, estimated at the rate of 1300 bushels a car.

In October, 1921, only 675 cars, or 854,100 bushels of wheat were inspected. In other years October's figures were considerably larger than 1921, but none of them approached the mark that has been made up to the present, this year.

Successful Experiment

Another triumph for co-operative marketing was registered last week, when 85 farmers near Czar and Provost combined in a pool to ship a carload of live poultry, by freight, to the poultry marketing plant at Edmonton. The car contained 108 crates of birds, or approximately 2600 head, the weight being 9,841 lbs. The freight bill on the entire car was $111.90. If this stuff had been shipped in the ordinary way by express, by individual farmers, the bill would have been $315.05. Thus a saving of $203.15 was effected, or about 2 cents a lb. on the poultry. The poultry was shipped in an open live stock car in regular poultry crates and arrived in excellent condition. The poultry was handled by the poultry marketing service of the provincial government, with the dominion government poultry officials co-operating.

Plenty of Spuds

Several districts in Alberta report a surplus of potatoes. The latest is from Vauxhall, where the farmers have raised a considerable surplus this year.

May Control Wireless Telephones

Control of wireless telephony by the provincial governments, is recommended by the executives of the telephone departments of the western provinces, including Alberta, and legislation seeking to transfer control from the federal to the provincial governments will be asked for at the coming session. The recommendation is that stations be licensed by the provincial governments and that fifty per cent, of the license fees go to the dominion government.

BATTLE OF THE MARNE WAS JOFFRE'S TRIUMPH

Field Marshall French in his book "1914" says that "as regards the tactical aspect of the Battle of the Marne the name of Joffre will descend to posterity with that battle as one of the greatest military commanders in history." For the British army, its commander maintains that "our rapid passages of the various river lines in face of great opposition and our unexpected appearance on the lines of retreat of the forces opposing the Fifth and Sixth (French) armies were practically decisive of the result." The expression "tactical aspect of the battle" seems inadequate, for the strategy was Joffre's, conceived during the advance of the enemy toward Paris. The glory of the victory has been awarded by well meaning, but ill-informed, critics to Foch or to Gallieni, the Governor of Paris. In an article in The Nineteenth Century, condensed by the New York Times, Major-General Sir Frederick Maurice undertakes to show that Marshall Joffre not only conceived the plan of throwing back the Germans and breaking up their offensive, but himself executed it by personal direction of the French armies and the British Expeditionary Force.

Won on the Left Flank

General Maurice says: "For years the story of Foch's counter-stroke which hurled the Prussian Guard into the marshes of St. Gond held the field, and was regarded as the explanation of the victory, while the important part played by the British army for years almost ignored. * * * We now know that this counter-attack, which had been ordered by Foch, never took place at all, because the enemy was in retreat before it could begin."

Foch's great service was his defence in the centre against heavy odds, "while victory was won on the left flank." The legend of Gallieni's attacking the exposed German flank with the Sixth army and forcing the hand of Joffre, who had meditated retreating behind the Seine, even if Paris had to be abandoned to its fate, is shattered by Sir Frederick Maurice. The "new group" mentioned in Joffre's order of Aug. 25, to be "formed in the neighborhood of Amiens between Aug. 27 and Sept. 2," was Manoury's Sixth army. General Maurice says that it was "to serve the double purpose of covering the exposed flank of the British army and of taking part in a general offensive against the German centre and right."

French Loses Confidence

The swiftness of the enemy's advance compelled Joffre to postpone his counter-offensive. Barely had the Sixth army assembled about Montdidier when it was called upon to hold up Van Kluck's onset. The following day it was in retreat with the other French armies. At this time Joffre quickly formed a new command on the right of Lanrezac's Fifth army. This force, designated as the Ninth army and taken from the left of the Fourth army, was turned over to the ever-ready Foch. During the general retreat the British commander was urged to fill a gap between the Fifth and Sixth armies, but French, who had lost faith in the tactics of his ally, continued to fall back in the direction of the Marne, where he believed the stand should be made. "French writers," says General Maurice, "comment in none too nice terms on this stage of the British retreat, but make no mention of the antecedent circumstances and little of the events which followed immediately."

Saved by British

At Mons, he says, "we saved the French left from annihilation, and had ourselves been put in a position of the utmost peril." Within a few days after the British commander acted upon his own initiative, Von Kluck threw the whole of his cavalry upon Lanrezac's flank and rear. French then came to his relief, repulsed the Fourth German Cavalry Division, which lost all its guns and stopped in their tracks the enemy Second and Fifth Divisions. "He (Lanrezac)," says General Maurice, "was saved a second time by the British army." Joffre still had to bide his time until the Fifth army could be fought and manoeuvred out of danger. This did not happen until the Marne was put between it and the enemy. Then Lanrezac was relieved of his command, d'Esperey succeeding him.

Joffre's Great Work

"Joffre," declares the British observer, "had received information before Gallieni of Von Kluck's march south-eastward and was waiting his chance to profit by it." The day Von Kluck's army crossed the front of Von Bulow's right, checking his advance,

TELEGRAPH NEWS TOLD IN BRIEF

CLOSE SHAVE FOR DRYS

Calgary, Nov. 1.—Only by the narrow majority of four votes was a resolution defeated Wednesday morning at the opening session of the fourteenth annual convention of the Alberta Association of Municipal Districts asking the provincial government to repeal the present liquor act and to substitute a system of government control on the lines adopted by British Columbia.

SULTAN OF TURKEY DEPOSED

London, Nov. 3.—A report that the Turkish Nationalist assembly has passed a law suppressing the sultanate of Turkey and the law of succession to the throne is contained in a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from its Constantinople correspondent who quotes dispatches from Ankara.

Such action by the national assembly would mean that the sultan is deposed.

U. S. FARMERS ASK EMBARGO ON CANADIAN WHEAT

Chicago, Nov. 3.—The American farm bureau federation has demanded an immediate embargo on Canadian Wheat. A telegram to the interstate commerce commission contains this demand, it was learned today.

TURKS' ARROGANT DEMANDS

Constantinople, Nov. 7.—The crisis in the Near East loomed up again in an aggravated form over the weekend. The Ankara government drove the Sultan's cabinet from office, declared the sultanate abolished and arrogantly demanded that troops of the allied powers should quit the sublime porte forthwith.

TURKISH SITUATION STILL CRITICAL

London, Nov. 9.—London morning newspapers failed to receive their usual quota of news from Constantinople today because of the cutting of the Eastern Telegraph Company's cable on the Kemalists' side of the Çanakkale zone by the Turks, and their refusal to permit the company to repair it.

So far as was known here this morning, no overt or hostile action has been taken at Constantinople either by the Allies or the Kemalists. But the situation is known to be extremely tense and insistence of the Nationalists upon their demands for allied evacuation have made it increasingly critical.

Everywhere in British circles satisfaction is expressed over the recent evidences that the allies are acting unanimously at Constantinople. Upon this unity the British base their hope that everything will ultimately come out all right in the Near East.

"Eh, bien, Messieurs!" said the Marshal to his staff, "nous nous battons sur la Marne." In the evening he made his dispositions and issued his famous general order. "Gallieni," we are told, "played his part as an important subordinate commander ably and manfully but he knew nothing of the situation of the Fifth army, or of the position on the front as a whole. In conclusion General Maurice says:

"Joffre's conduct of the campaign from August 23, when the long prepared French plan of campaign came tumbling down in ruins, to Sept. 10, when the 'miracle of the Marne' was consummated, is as fine an example of courageous and far-sighted leadership as is to be found in history."

Newton Baker former U. S. Secretary of war says that country "won the war." We will concede it if the U. S. will wade in and help stop the next one.

The Toronto Jews insist that Paderecki owing to his alleged bad treatment of the Polish Jews shall not appear in Toronto, and that if he does there will be violence. Before making it unanimous it might be well to consult with the Toronto police.

THE EMPRESS THEATRE CURRENT ATTRACTIONS

THREE STARS AID IN UNIVERSAL DRAMA

It was a sign of care and attention to detail when Universal secured three former stars to support one of its stars in a photoplay. Such is the situation in "Tracked to Earth," a Universal Special attraction coming to the Empress Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Frank Mayo is the star of the production, which is based on a Saturday Evening Post story by William J. Neidid. William Worthington, the director of Mayo's recent "Dr. Jim," is responsible for the direction.

Virginia Valli, the leading woman, who starred in musical comedies and was a Ziegfeld Follies beauty in her career before entering motion pictures.

She has an odd type of beauty, and her acting and the way she photographed in "Tracked to Earth," so pleased Universal executives that she was immediately re-engaged for the filming of "The Storm," a Universal Jewel super-production starring House Peters.

Buck Connors used to be known as one of the champion horse riders of the world and one of the best known cowboys that ever rode in Western roles. He was starred in motion pictures for a long period.

Harold Goodwin made such a good actor of himself in two or three years, principally in Universal pictures, that he was signed to star by Fox. Universal secured him for this production just as it secured Miss Valli and Buck Connors—because "Tracked to Earth" was going to be made on a careful scale that would make it worth any star's time to be "just a member of the cast."

NO TREE HANDY SO HERO ESCAPES

Saved by geography! The hero of "Tracked to Earth," the Universal Special Attraction at the Empress Theatre next Friday and Saturday was about to be hung by a posse because they thought he was a horse thief—but unfortunately for their plans and luckily for him the sand hills country has no trees.

Of course there are telegraph poles along the railroad and the posse started for them. But the little delay caused by Mother Nature's refusal to supply the gallows, gave Frank Mayo, as the hero, his chance to escape.

It is a mighty clever little situation and the story is said to follow the situation in style and cleverness. William J. Neidid wrote it and it was published in the Saturday Evening Post. It was filmed at Universal City under William Worthington's direction.

Supporting the star are Virginia Valli, formerly of the Follies and star of New York musical comedies, Harold Goodwin, Buck Connors, once starred in Western photoplays, Duke

"A Terrible Experience"

"I Recall My Experiences with the Burglar with Feelings of Horror!"

"How would you feel if you awakened in the middle of the night with a flashlight shining in your eyes and the grog voice of a man threatening that, 'If you make the slightest noise, I'll shoot?' That was my experience the end of last March when my husband was away in the woods and I was alone with my three children. Everytime I think of this experience a shudder passes over me and as long as I live I shall remember it. At the time I really thought I would die. It's a wonder my heart did not stop beating. I was so weak that even if I had any desire to move, I could not. I was bathed in a cold, clammy perspiration. Even to recall the shocking details now makes me shudder. It was a result of this shock that I contracted a high fever and for hours at a time I was delirious. I got so bad that the doctor finally gave up hope of my ever recovering, but by careful nursing, I was finally pronounced out of danger. The shock had left me so weak, that, for no reason whatever, I would suddenly burst into tears. All the life seemed to have been taken out of me. I kept getting weaker and weaker, so much so that my husband and children were constantly worrying about me. Doctors prescribed for me and while I willingly tried their medicines, only very few of them did me any good, but unfortunately the good was not lasting. My family asked me if I would try Carnal and I said, 'I was willing to try anything,' but felt that it would not do me any good. Four bottles of Carnal taken regularly, has completely restored my former health and strength, and while I occasionally recall my experience with the burglar with feelings of horror, I am otherwise as well and strong as I have ever been. Carnal is the most wonderful preparation I have ever used for building and restoring health and strength. It has done wonders for several of my friends to whom I have recommended it." SOLD BY R. D. McNAY

R. Lee, Percy Challenger, Lon Poff, Jack Walters and Arthur Miller. It certainly is an amusing element in a play when the country in which it is laid refuses to supply the villain with his tools. The posse, of course, isn't exactly a villainous feature of the narrative, but its intention at least was to destroy the hero.

STORY OF INDIA IS FULL OF MYSTERY

One of the finest casts obtainable will be seen in the Earle Williams production, "The Man From Downing Street," which will be shown at the Empress Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday next. This picture was made under the direction of Edward Jose, and has among the members of its cast Bet' Ross Clarke, Kathryn Adams and Charles Hill Mailes.

Kathryn Adams, who takes the part of Norma Graves, appeared as leading woman for Mr. Williams in his noteworthy production of "The Silver Car" and Betty Ross Clarke, who assumes the leading role in the production played opposite Mr. Williams in "Lucky Carson."

Boris Karloff is one of the finest types imaginable for the Maharajah Jehan, which he plays in the production. His features are perfect for the role of an Indian prince.

Charles Hill Mailes, as Colonel Wentworth, is a splendid type of the British army officer, and Eugenia Gilbert, as Sarissa, the dancing girl, has an effective role to which she adds great charm of face and figure, and does several exquisite dance numbers in the palace of the Maharajah, and in an effective cafe scene. Here she does a beautiful fire dance.

Henry Burrows, as Major Burnham; Herbert Prior, as Capt. Graves; and George Stanley as Sir Edward Craig, are all well known character people who have attained high levels at their art.

FRENCH SCENES PICTURED

John S. Robertson, Paramount producer, went to France for important scenes in "Love's Boomerang," which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. In the story, which is adapted from the novel, "Perpetua," by Dion Clayton Calthrop, Perpetua and Brian, her "adopted" artist father, spend a pleasant holiday period travelling about in a caravan with the circus folk and make life long friends of Monsieur Lamballe, the good-hearted proprietor and his genial, motherly wife. David Powell has the leading role of Brian, the hero, while the parts of Monsieur and Madame Lamballe were entrusted to two well-known actors, Roy Byford and Florence Wood.

TUDOR HALL IN PICTURE

One of the biggest sets ever shown in a Paramount picture is seen in the concluding scenes of the new John S. Robertson production "Love's Boomerang," which comes to the Empress Theatre next Monday and Tuesday. The set shows a big hall of the Tudor period with a stone-flagged floor covering approximately 3,000 square feet of space. The chief features of the hall are the groin roof 38 feet high and a massive stone carved fireplace. The set is a reproduction of the big hall of Beaulieu Abbey, Lord Montague's beautiful country residence, of which some striking exteriors were recently obtained for this production, in which Ann Forrest and David Powell are the featured players.

AMAZING FEATS OF INDIAN JUGGLERS

We have noticed in some American newspapers lately a series of articles which aim to explain the famous tricks of Indian jugglers. Many of them are shown to be nothing but skillful jugglery, with prepared apparatus such as one may see often on the vaudeville stage. When these explanations do not suffice, as for instance, in the often-witnessed feat of a juggler throwing a rope into the air, up which a small boy climbs until he disappears in the sky, the hypothesis of hypnotism is introduced. In May, 1921, Mr. C. L. Harcourt contributed an article to Chambers' Journal, in which he described some half dozen amazing tricks performed at his bungalow by a first-class Indian juggler, and which he could not account for, except on the theory that he had been hypnotized. Another witness of the disappearing-boy trick said that he discovered by accident that the others of the spectators who would be prepared to swear that they saw the boy vanish in thin air were hypnotized. Instead of fixing his gaze on the juggler, as everyone else naturally did, he kept his eyes on the ground, and only raised them when the exclamations of the others indicated that they were witnessing a marvel. Then he looked and saw his companions staring into the air, but himself saw neither rope nor boy.

Suspended Animation

In another article in the current issue of Chambers, Mr. Harcourt says that the Indian jugglers are to be divided into two classes—those whose work is nothing but clever sleight-of-hand, and those who either have the gift of mass hypnotism or perform some other wonders unknown to the Caucasian. The same issue contains a contribution from M. E. McGregor, who has lived in India for thirty years and tells of some tricks, which, as he says, take one into the mysterious ground of the fourth dimension. A short time ago an elderly Brahmin walked up to the verandah of a friend's house in Lucknow and asked if he might perform a few tricks, as he was collecting funds for the temple to which he was attached. Being given permission, he asked what the sahibs would like him to do. Should he suspend his animation and sit where he was for two days?

Were They Hypnotized?

They said that fifteen minutes would be long enough, whereupon he immediately closed his eyes and relaxed his muscles. A mirror was produced and held to his lips. It remained unclouded. The white man tried to feel the beating of a pulse in any artery. There was no sign of it, nor any other sign of life. At the end of fifteen minutes Mr. McGregor spoke to him, and he awoke as from a sleep. When told that what he had done was wonderful, he answered in an apathetic manner: "I was not here. It is quite easy." Then he asked for a heavy iron chain to be produced, and one was brought that was used as a trace on an ox-cart. He put it across his chest, under his arms, and had it tied behind him. Then he merely expanded his thin chest and the chain broke just over his chest. He then asked for something that no human being could digest and, with apparently no discomfort, swallowed a lot of broken glass, 2 packets of darning needles and some mercury.

The Fourth Dimension

He asked that a walking cane be produced. It was brought, and a jeweled ring, that the white men could recognize, was slipped on it, and dangled in the middle. Mr. McGregor held the cane firmly on each side, a few inches away from the ring. The priest then stretched out his finger and pulled the ring off THROUGH THE CANE, not with a quick jerk, but just a casual pull! The dumbfounded spectators asked him to repeat the trick, but he said: "Why repeat what you have seen? Let one of your servant girls give me one of her metal anklets; one without a join and very heavy." One was produced, and this the juggler pushed up his arm until it stuck and could go no farther. Then, as if he were measuring a span, he put his thumb on one side of it and his little finger on the other, and lightly pulled it THROUGH HIS ARM, and handed it back. Of course, the appropriate comment is that he didn't pull it through his arm, but if he did it is obvious that Mr. McGregor and the other white spectators were hypnotized.

Walking on Fire

The writer tells further of his many times witnessed the walking on-fire trick, which no one can explain. Not only do the fakirs walk on blazing charcoal, but they can make white men do it without feeling any pain. It is plain that, while the jugglers might have some secret method of hardening their feet, the white spectators would not, and that they either walked on fire or that a hundred of them at one time could be hypnotized into the notion that they were witnessing the feat, while another half dozen were hypnotized in to belief that they were doing it. Mr. McGregor says that at Hardwar he saw a man hanging head downward from a branch of a tree, and was told that he lived always in that position. Certainly, he was always there at any hour of the day or night that Mr. McGregor passed, and he did this several times in the three days his camp was in the neighborhood. The very fact that it is impossible to lure these adepts of the occult to visit Europe or America to demonstrate their powers, is in itself an indication that they have discovered some secret which makes them indifferent to what the rest of us accept as the great truths and objects of life.

WHY BABIES CRY

It's often hard to find the trouble—it may be teeth—it may be stomach—but oh! so often it is just a chafed irritated skin on which poor Soap has been used.

The remedy for this is so simple! Hours of suffering—night after night of disturbance—have been avoided by mothers, who have insisted on—Baby's Own Soap. Of course it costs a little more, a very little more, however—than what is often bought and used—but four generations of Canadian Mothers are there to vouch for its purity, for the soothing healing effect on Baby's delicate skin, for the lovely pure flower fragrance it leaves when Baby fresh and clean is taken from his bath.

Don't you think, Madam, it's worth paying the little extra, a little less if you buy a box (3 cakes) which your dealer asks for Baby's Own Soap. Adv.

SALVATION ARMY THOUGHTS
By C.A.R.

A short time ago there were gathered together quite a concourse of people to witness the dedication of a monument raised to the memory of the boys who gave their lives for King, Country and Home. And many were pleased to contribute for such a cause. But how little people stop to think! The stone is quite an ornament to the Court House grounds, but will not the thoughtful man or woman admit that if the boys whose names are engraved on the stone were able to speak, they would have preferred something to perpetuate their memory that would have been a real benefit to humanity. For instance, to have an X-Ray in the hospital would have been of lasting benefit to mankind and its use would be continually recalling to mind the boys who have gone.

Apropos of the names engraved on the monument, I would like to leave a thought with you as found in Isaiah 49:16, "Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands"; the Saviour and Deliverer from all sin—even the Son of God, is mindful of his children. Is the fact of our living in a Christian land (so called) sufficient to gain us an entrance to Heaven? We find the answer in St. John's 3:3, "Except a man be born again (or from above) he cannot see the Kingdom of God." Some will say, we help the poor—we feed the hungry—true, we do not attend any place of worship very often, but then we are not much interested. Look at Ecclesiastes 12:14, "For God shall bring every work into judgment," etc., and 1 Cor. 13:3, "and though I give my body to be burned," etc., if I do not these things because the "love of Christ constraineth me, it availeth me nothing. How many of the few, comparatively, who go to the Bible each day, really wanting to learn and understand the wonderful and precious truths that are for the individual who "seeks with all their heart." We hear some objector say, people interpret different portions in the Bible to suit themselves. True, many do so and try to deceive themselves, but not those who are truly born again. Then, many know but are not willing to believe and accept the One who says, "I am the Way the Truth and the Life. If any come unto Me I will in no wise cast him out." "If any man sinneth, he is of the Devil, etc." We hear so many say, it is impossible to live without sin, but according to the Word of God, the desire to sin can be taken out of the heart by faith in the One who has redeemed us. God has called his children to holiness, but the preaching today has helped sin, not holiness and has peopled hell, not heaven. But few ministers have the courage to rebuke the neglect of God's Holy Day, but few would rebuke sin. But courage comes with conversion and sanctification, the Baptism of the Holy Ghost, and this is the will of God, etc. If you are willing to be scripturally converted, pay the price, sacrifice. Some hungry sin-rich soul, tired of the ways of the world will come to Jesus. O! Make me a lover of souls. Souls shall then be the cry of those whose hearts are washed white in the Blood of the Lamb.

"Hath He marks to lead me to Him
If He be my guide.
In His hands and feet are nail-prints

LOCAL &amp; PERSONAL

Mrs. H. Little is in Calgary for a few days, the guest of Mrs. R. Cottam.

Friends of Mr. R. Cottam will be pleased to learn that he is progressing favorably after his sudden illness of last week.

The Macleod District U.F.A. convention will be held in Macleod on November 30th.

Mrs. Moore and Miss Eva Moore of Calgary, are in Macleod for a few days visiting Mrs. Foster Moore.

Miss Frances Sheffield, who is now in training at the Galt Hospital, Lethbridge, was in town over the holiday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Russell.

Neville Kirk, who is attending Normal School in Calgary, was in Macleod last week-end, spending the holiday with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Kirk.

Miss Gertrude Genge, who is now working in Calgary, came down to Macleod on Friday night and spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. R. Hilliard.

The Macleod General Hospital wishes to thank the Rathwell District for its kindness in donating vegetables, fruit and eggs, received last Monday.

R. D. McNay was the recipient during last week of the old Spanish hoax letter of the man in prison with a considerable sum of money awaiting him asking for assistance to obtain it with $5.00 payment for this aid. Mr. McNay filed the letter, not for future reference, though.

The first regular meeting of the Macleod ex-N.W. Mounted Police was held on Wednesday evening, November 1st. Much routine business and completion of organization was taken up. Committees were formed, and the regular date set for meeting was the first Wednesday in each month. Communications from several in the district were read, stating that they would join the long list of members in Macleod.

W. H. Shield, M.P.P., with C. C. Coote, M.P., and Mr. Sears held a meeting of electors at the school house in the Rathwell district on Friday night. The attendance was good and the speakers were in good form. Mr. Shield dwelt on the provincial situation, as at previous meetings, the varied needs of the province, and the duty of members meeting the people. Mr. Coote took up the railway tariff and the grain board with no new phases, but impressed on all the necessity of keeping in touch with the happenings of the day. Mrs. Sears asked the ladies to organize every woman in the district, and get ready for a good intelligent vote when the next one came. "Our numbers have been reported as getting less, it is your duty and mine to increase the membership, and to begin now," she said.

H. V. Clarke, of Lethbridge, has acquired the Whitefoot Photo Studio, having purchased the business from T. W. Whitefoot, who is returning to England to enter into partnership with his father in mercantile lines. Mr. Clarke took over the studio business on Monday last and will be pleased to serve all old patrons and many new ones. Mr. Clarke is not an entire stranger to Macleod people as he was here in the employ of Mr. Whitefoot for eight months in 1920; afterward being connected with the Allison Portrait Studio in Lethbridge for some time and later establishing himself there in a studio of his own. Since leaving Macleod Mr. Clarke has entered the ranks of the benedicts and is accompanied on his return by his bride, their wedding having occurred some two months since. As soon as they can procure a suitable house Mr. and Mrs. Clarke will establish themselves in permanent residence here.

The Times owes the ladies of the Presbyterian Church an apology on account of omitting to give any report of their successful social evening held on Friday, October 27th. Those who took part in the program were: W. Harvey, J. K. Ridley, A. Dunn, Mrs. F. Morris, Mrs. (Rev.) Kennedy, Miss Marguerite Watson, and Nora Peterson, Marguerite Reid, Jean Ringland, Jessie Little in a character song entitled "Alice's Blue Gown," accompanied by Wilma Swinerton on the piano. The program was one entirely of songs and reflected great credit on the singers. F. Morris accompanied on the piano. J. W. McDonald acted as chairman, and the Rev. J. Kennedy addressed those present along the lines of the object of the concert. Altogether the affair was an exceedingly pleasurable one. Mrs. J. D. Matheson won the prize for turning in the greatest amount of experience money and a tidy sum was realized from the admissions.

POPPY DAY CAMPAIGN

Next Saturday, November 11th, the day known throughout all the Allied countries as Armistice Day, is to be fittingly observed in Alberta and the other provinces of Canada by each and every person wearing a poppy, similar to those which grew in Flanders' fields. Due to the efforts of the Great War Veterans' Association in this province almost every district in Alberta has been organized for the campaign and a large supply of the "flower of remembrance" has been secured.

Altogether 170,000 bright red poppies of two sizes and a large number of wreaths and sprays, the latter to be used in decorating monuments and tablets, have been distributed to the local branches of the G.W.V.A. in the

HER SOLDIER BOY

Mother, dear Mother, weep not nor be sad
As you read this my letter today,
Its a letter of love from your soldier lad—
Beloved Mother, weep not I say,
Its you who have borne the brunt of war,
Your dear heart has been wounded and torn,
How I hoped to come home and heal that sore,
How I longed for so bright a morn.

With thoughts of you dear Mother,
With thoughts of my native land,
To keep her free from tyranny
I fought yea hand to hand;
Oh how my heart sank down that day—
I knew what it meant to you—
My God I thought what a price to pay,
But I'll see my country through.

Like beasts of fury we swept through the lines,
Then what a ghastly scene—
There was naught but blood and bodies and mud
Where the enemy once had been,
How little we knew as we went through
That I had been caught and done,
Till I felt quite blind, and a voice so kind
Said "You've been hit my lad, but you won."

Passchendale No 904797
November 11th 1917

provinces and to other organizations handling the campaign. These are being sold during the few days previous to Armistice Day and also on that day and if citizens of this province remember yet the heroic deeds of the men who went over there, many of whom never returned, and there can be no doubt but that they do, it is evident that 170,000 persons will be wearing a poppy on that day.

The objects of the poppy day campaign are worthy of the support of every citizen. The flowers have been made by disabled Canadian veterans in hospital. The entire proceeds realized from the sale of the poppies in any district will remain in that locality to relieve distress among returned men, their dependents, widows and orphans during the coming winter.

It has been stated that Canadians will never forget the deeds performed by the men who fought in the Great War. The following is the last verse of a poem, "The Aftermath," written by John Oliver Lewis which stands out among the many expressive contributions to Armistice Day: They sleep, where they fell, at their duty,

And as there's a just God above,
He'll open His arms to receive them,
And bless them with infinite love;
And we who remain—must remember
We're pledged for the rest of our lives,
To care for the widows and orphans
Of these men who gave us their lives.

WHY THE ALLIES ENDED THE WAR

Kipling's repudiated interview with Clare Sheridan has led to a renewal of the discussion as to what induced the Allies to give Germany the armistice she asked for, and whether the military chiefs were overruled by the white-livered politicians. The question is important, there ought to be no difficulty in arriving at an answer unless we are to assume that Lloyd George and Clemenceau are what Ring Lardner would call liars. They have said that the final decision rested with Marshal Foch, that if he had refused the armistice they would have supported him in a determination to march upon Berlin. But those who believe that the calamities that have assailed the world since the end of the war are due to the fact that Germany was not invaded and the peace terms dictated at Berlin instead of in Paris have chosen to represent the political heads of the Allies as meddling civilians who snatched a complete military victory from Foch and the Allied armies. They have been forced to take this position because their attitude would be ridiculous if it were admitted that the military leaders were in favor of the armistice.

The Generals' Council

Will Irwin, the well-known American author, was in France as a newspaper correspondent at the close of the war, and in a position to know what occurred at the meeting of the Allied generals when the armistice proposal was discussed. The information he gathered, he says, was from a thoroughly informed and trustworthy source. In the first place he says that President Wilson did not force the Allies to agree to an armistice. He simply said that Marshal Foch, who was conducting the war, should decide. Therefore, Foch summoned General Bliss, American chief of staff; Sir Douglas Haig, and Generals Petain and Castelnau and asked for their opinion. Bliss was in favor of pressing on to Berlin, and Irwin suggests that he was in honor bound to take this position in

SETTING SUN

Just a blaze of golden sunlight,
E'er the sun goes down,
And a golden head is nestled
Close to one of brown.

Grey eyes enraptured look in eyes of blue,
Lips fondly kiss a mouth of rose-red hue.

Just a bird at fading sunset
Trilling forth his song,
Youthful hearts awaken
To that old love song.
Sweetly the melody calls to lovers true,
God's gift of love divine for me and you.

Just a shaft of golden sunlight,
And a radiant beam,
Shone o'er a baby's head
Like a silken sheen.
Dimpled hands are tugging at the breast of love;
Eyes of deep grey and blue look down in love.

Just a flash of gold and silver,
Leaping from the stream,
Back into a foaming torrent,
Which iridescent gleams,
Waiting with bait on hook, the patient fisher stands;
Sadly he turns westward as the sun goes down.

Haig For Peace

Field Marshal Haig was in favor of accepting the armistice, since Germany was ready to do whatever was demanded of her and was acknowledging a defeat unprecedented in warfare. There was nothing to be gained by advancing to Berlin. Military affairs, he said, were always uncertain. There had been instances of armies apparently beaten having a sudden desperate access of courage and morale and inflicting a deadly blow upon their pursuers. General Petain sided with General Bliss, but not so positively. Then General Castelnau who, according to Mr. Irwin, was, next to Foch, the brain of the French army, was called upon. He agreed with Haig. He also said that the weather was a factor. They might expect at that time, early in November, that the rains would set in as they had done in the four preceding years, which would make movement difficult if not impossible. If the great assaults were launched, which were planned, it might be that before the objectives could be reached the rains would fall and halt the armies in their tracks. In that case their preliminary losses would have achieved nothing.

Foch said he was impressed by the

TO THE ROSE

The choice of a queen, the flower of a king,
Is the rose, the beautiful rose.
Beloved of all people, a tribute we bring
To the rose, the beautiful rose.

All readily crown thee queen of all flowers,
The rose, the beautiful rose.
The ideal of beauty that shines through the bowers
Is the rose, the beautiful rose.
The lover's true joy is to sit 'neath the shade
Of the rose in the garden or wild in the glade,
Where its glory of form and grace is displayed,
The rose, the beautiful rose.

The flower of the bride, of the future it sings,
The rose, the beautiful rose.
It's the joy of the senses, and fellowship brings,
The rose, the beautiful rose.
Magnetic in power, esteemed by mankind,
Thy fragrance is scattered by every wind;
The joy of the eye, the delight of the mind,
Is the rose, the beautiful rose.

The delight of the young, dispenser of mirth,
The rose, the beautiful rose;
Of royal descent, since God gave it birth,
The rose, the beautiful rose.
To the aged and weary a joy and delight,
By its sweetness it speaks of heaven and light,
Dispels by its charms the wearisome night,
All love thee, beautiful rose.

course, as Irwin says, he may have entered the council chamber with his mind made up or made up for him by the French Government. He expressed belief that by granting the armistice the lives of perhaps 60,000 Allied soldiers would be saved, which otherwise would have to be sacrificed if the offensives, then about to begin, were carried through. So he decided that the armistice should be granted. At the time the armies of the Allies were about ready for the final stroke, which would have completed what the British and French in Flanders, and the French and Americans in the Argonne had so auspiciously begun. Two more great thrusts, had they been successful, would have cut the Germany army in three, and would have forced a retreat to the Rhine on the part of the armies or army that succeeded in escaping capture or extermination. Taking into consideration the state of the German morale, there is little doubt that the last great offensive would have succeeded. The best proof of this lies

Suspicious of Wilson

But a toll of 60,000 dead and 200,000 wounded would have been the price paid. The whole world was sick of the war. The morale of the Allies was sufficient to hang on to the end, but was it sufficient to hang on in order that military reputations should be built up and the Allied generals and victorious troops have the glory of marching into Berlin? There seemed to be no doubt in any quarter that had the armistice been refused the German nation would have plucked up the spirit that makes a cornered rat fight so desperately, and though the end might not be fought, a fearful price might be paid for final victory. Mr. Irwin believes that if the war had lasted a year or two longer the American army would have been greater numerically than the armies of the other Allies. In that case Wilson might have been the man to dictate the final terms of peace, and he thinks that the British and French leaders did not want a man like Wilson to be placed in this position. In any event the military leaders of the Allies drew up the terms of the armistice without any German co-operation. They asked whatever they wanted, and Germany refused in no instance to comply. What then was to have been gained by carrying on the war?

PARTY AND POLITICS
(Cape Argue) South Africa)

A new and vitally important departure is contemplated in the attitude of the Central Albany Farmer's Association who desire to launch out the proposal that politics as distinct from party politics should be discussed at the O. P. Agricultural Association Congresses. Several of the associations that will be represented at the Congress will ask for the abolition of the Provincial Councils.

REVOLUTIONS
(Times of India, Bombay)

There are certain conditions in which revolution may succeed. But no one in his senses can doubt whether revolution in the circumstances of India would lead. The one condition which, in modern societies, can make revolution effective without being subversive, is a large authoritative and trained electorate supported by an extensive responsible middle class. In India we have an efficient and vigorous intelligentsia, but below it an immense mass of illiterate rent by division of race, caste and creed. The Russian intelligentsia, called the cadets, made the revolution with the support of the chief of the army. The moment of revolution was consummated they cut the most pitiable figure, tossed on the waves of the proletariat, until they disappeared beneath the flood of sub-men unleashed by the handful of Communists who knew their own minds and had no scruples.

THE MARKET PROBLEM
(The Australian)

Only one way is open to make a profitable market in meat. As few obstacles as possible should be placed between the man who breeds cattle and the person who wants to buy meat. Australians can do little because they cannot influence the great world causes. But government could confer benefits greater than that proposed by the paltry bonus of 14d. a lb. Queensland, the great export state, cannot sell its product even in Australia without having to surmount difficulties at every turn. The great steamers which would come here are discouraged, and the companies which cater for the coastal traffic are compelled by legislation to form combines among themselves and with the employees' organizations to maintain high freights. In seeking their own aggrandizement, politicians levy toll at every stage, and hope that the burdens imposed on all will be forgotten, while the favours conferred on each will be remembered.

THE RABBIT PEST
(New Zealand Herald)

From experience both in Australia and New Zealand it is obvious that the only sound policy is a ruthless continuance of the struggle to keep in check the number of rabbits. Crown land, native land and European land need to be brought under the same conditions. Nothing could be more disheartening to the conscientious farmer than to find his work nullified by adjoining areas of native or Crown lands being permitted to act as breeding grounds for rabbits. Not only should effort continue with unrelaxing zeal, but the lesson of the rabbit should not be forgotten. Enthusiasts advocating the introduction of all descriptions of animals from abroad should seriously consider the possible results of such a course. Like Australia, New Zealand has in the rabbit a sufficient problem without seeking any new source of trouble.

ONE BUGBEAR LESS
(Manchester Guardian)

For generations Russia has been our bugbear. In the Near East, in Persia, in Afghanistan, in India, everywhere, she has threatened or clashed

That was in the days of her militarist expansionism. Why should the same thing continue after she has ceased to be expansionist and become militarist only in self-defense? It would surely be worth a good deal to us, as undoubtedly it would be worth a good deal to Russia, if a term could be put to this chronic antagonism.

THE PROBLEM IN BRIEF

(Westminster Gazette)

Either other nations must go out of the industrial field and be content to become the receivers of goods for which no payment is made, or, in the effort to avoid unemployment and the stifling of their manufactures, they must meet the German competition by working for longer hours and for less wages, by cutting profits to the minimum, and by reducing their purchases abroad. The dilemma is, in fact complete. Germany could be made to pay for a time, no doubt, until she was strong enough to refuse further payment; but the price her creditors would give would be the destruction of employment for their own peoples, and the establishment of Germany in the position of the strongest nation.

LOOSEN UP, EVERYBODY
(Sunday Times, Johannesburg, S.A.)

Of course it is not everybody who has money to spend. But a great many have. They are holding it up waiting to see how things will go. And by doing so they are preventing things going. It is not to start an orgy of useless and extravagant expenditure. It is simply to advance the date of that spending which must come sooner or later. Some people think of building later on. Then build now. Others mean to re-furnish or re-stock wardrobes in the future. Do it now. Men with large resources are planning the starting of new enterprises or the expansion of old ones when the conditions appear more favourable. Don't wait. Do it now. And the mere act of doing it will produce the more favourable conditions.

Macleod Hospital Purchases Up-to-date American Sterilizer

The Macleod Hospital Board lately ordered an up-to-date American sterilizer, a combination equipment for sterilizing instruments, dressings and water in connection with surgical operations. This is a big step forward along efficiency lines at the hospital. The equipment is to cost in the neighborhood of $1000.00 and is due to arrive any day now. The Board also has in view the purchase of an X-ray machine which is also a necessity here.

The present Hospital Board has done much toward bringing the Macleod Hospital up to its present highly efficient status, and at the annual meeting to be held in the town hall on Monday, November 13th at 8 p.m. every citizen who has Macleod's welfare at heart should turn out and evince a proper spirit of interest in the administration of this Macleod institution.

Presentation to T. W. Whitefoot

On Wednesday evening last at the home of Capt. J. S. Lambert, the executive committee of the G.W.V.A. of Macleod, presented Comrade Thos. W. Whitefoot with a Waterman set, comprising a beautiful fountain pen mounted in gold and a companion Ever-sharp pencil. Both the pen and the pencil were suitably inscribed from the Macleod branch of the G.W.V.A. After the presentation a musical program was indulged in, on which J. Ridley and W. Whitworth greatly assisted. About 11 o'clock a luncheon was served by the host, after which the boys wandered back to the battle-fields of Flanders and reminiscences of those stirring war days when it was a case of "Up to your eyes in mud, boys, etc.," and "Plum and Apple Jam," of course not forgetting many a happy event in the estaminets, were recalled and enjoyed. Captain Lambert, president of the local branch of the G.W.V.A., made the presentation and in a short precise speech eulogised Comrade Whitefoot and the great assistance and help he had been to the G.W.V.A. during his connection with it. The speaker said that Tom was always ready and willing to do anything to push the thing along, and it was such men as that, that would be sorely missed by the returned boys. The committee wished him the best of luck on his trip to England, and assured him that their only regret was he was not coming back to Macleod to again take an active part with the Vets' Association.

Comrades Barnes and Pollard both added their quota in eloquence, and in glowing eulogistic terms paid the tribute that was due to Comrade Whitefoot.

The guest of honor in a few remarks thanked the boys for the beautiful gift, and said that anything he had ever done for the G.W.V.A. in Macleod had been a pleasure and he would always carry the pleasant memories of times he had spent with the Association and the comrades wherever he travelled. He was sorry to leave Macleod in many ways, but it was a case of duty at home, and this call he was forced to respond to.

Among the present were: J. S. Lambert, E. Buckwell, G. Pollard, C. P. McGladdery, R. F. Barnes, W. Whitworth and J. Ridley.

HOG GRADING COMMENCES ON OCTOBER 30, 1922.

The regulations under which the official grading of hogs will be undertaken have been approved by Council as submitted after final agreement by all interests represented by the Joint Swine Committee. The Swine graders appointed through the Civil Service Commission following the grading examinations have reported for duty to the Dominion Live Stock Branch.

The Honorable W. R. Motherwell, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, announces that the hog grading regulations will be made effective on October 30th, 1922. In the meantime, the new hog grading staff is being given a thorough course of instruction at the Toronto Stockyards, so that the official grading regulations as established will be uniformly applied at all stockyards and abattoirs in Canada.

Standard grading equipment is being adopted and is already installed at several stockyards where preliminary grading tests are being conducted and the necessary adjustments to expedite the grading and movement of hogs being made. Experimental work in ear-tagging for co-operative shipments providing for the identification of individual farmer's hogs is in its final stage and the Live Stock Commissioner will announce an approved identification mark simultaneous with the inauguration of grading.

LUDENDORFF PROMISES A DAY OF RECKONING

Ferdinand Tuohy, The New York World correspondent, whose despatches appear in The Mail and Empire, is at present in Germany trying to learn the truth about the political and economic situations there.

$25.00 REWARD

Will be paid to anyone giving the necessary information leading to the conviction of anyone deliberately breaking street lamps.

The public are requested to co-operate with us to prevent the destruction of these lamps. It costs somebody $2.50 every time one is replaced. That somebody is you, therefore it is in your own interest that this useless destruction is stopped.

Town of Macleod

In the course of his investigations he sought an interview with Gen. Ludendorff, and after considerable trouble was able to make an appointment with the former field marshal in his charming villa on the outskirts of Munich. Ludendorff has taken up his residence in Bavaria because there he is able to carry on with greater security the movement for the restoration of the monarchy. Naturally he refused to give any information on this subject, but did not hesitate to unbosom himself with passion upon some others. He gave his views on Great Britain, on the United States and on the present German Government, and showed the utmost contempt for them all. He described the latter as being composed of a lot of Bolsheviks and Jews, and was especially bitter in his denunciation of the Jews, who, he said, were at the bottom of the entry of the United States into the World War. They thrust Uncle Sam into the conflict when it became apparent that they could make more money that way than by preserving his neutrality.

Kept Hand on Pistol

Ludendorff greeted his guest coldly. He entered the room with his wife by his side, but after staring fixedly at the visitor for a few moments decided that she was not necessary for his protection and sent her away. Throughout the conversation he kept one hand in his coat pocket, and through the cloth Mr. Tuohy could see clearly the outline of a small pistol, with its muzzle pointed at him. Ludendorff is in constant dread of assassination, and before the interview Tuohy had heard that he was always armed with two revolvers, one of which lay in sight upon his desk. It is the assault of an anti-monarchist or "Red" that he fears. The grounds are guarded by savage dogs, one of which snarled and sniffed at the correspondent while the interview was going forward. Ludendorff ordered him to a chair as though he had been a servant or a soldier, and stared at him unsmilingly throughout the talk. Only when in the course of the conversation Tuohy revealed the fact that he was of Irish descent did the formidable general unbend. He said that in sacrificing her fleet and giving Ireland her freedom Great Britain had committed the two greatest blunders in her career.

Speaks of Canadians

He proceeded: "England has failed to appreciate that never again will Canadians and Australians rush to her side in Europe in anything like national numbers. Contingents may cross, but that will be all." Having said this, Ludendorff stopped abruptly as though afraid he had said too much. The British Empire, according to Ludendorff, is doomed, and will be the next to go, nor will it recover like Germany. He said that Michael Collins—whose assassination had not occurred at the time—was merely playing with them in London, and would, of course, establish a republic when it suited him to do so. Then he added: "Ah, if only we had had more of the Irish coast for our submarines in the last war! It would have been all up with England." At the same time the correspondent gathered that Ludendorff, and the millions for whom he speaks, and while they detest the United States, are inclined to be friendly toward Great Britain. Internal politics concern them for the present. They expect that perhaps in ten years they will be in a position to bring about a civil war, the result of which will be the establishment of the monarchy. Then the preparations will be made for the Next War, which will aim to give Germany the boundaries it had when the armistice was granted.

Bitter Against Americans

The former commander-in-chief was particularly bitter against the United States. When told that Americans were keenly interested in Germany, he said that they should mind their own business. Germany did not need them or want them. The United States, he said, had fought for gold, whereas the Germans had fought for the supremacy of the race. Of all Americans he rates the German-Americans the lowest. "We got nothing from them in the war," he said, "and we expect nothing now." We presume that Ludendorff gives no credit to any friends who did not engage in the actual fighting, and ignores the fact that the German-Americans contributed powerfully to the neutrality of the United States in the early days of the war. Throughout the interview his attitude was that of the soldier who had refused to admit that things had changed, except in the matter of frontiers. He has nothing to apologize for. The same old exploded German theories look as good to him now as on the day they were first uttered.

The Next War

As regards the Lusitania, he reiterated the charge that the ship carried munitions—"otherwise it would not have blown up so easily"

—and he said it was the appearance of the German submarine, Deutschland, in the United States which had finally driven the Americans into the war. Naturally he is bitter against the French and blames them for the fact that he is unable to provide his family with meat more than twice a week. "Germany has been abominably treated," he said, "but there will come a day of reckoning." The Next War, he and his followers believe will be a lightning affair of airplanes and chemicals, fought without the need of calling up national armies. "One army corps should suffice," he said.

G. H. Pearson has purchased a Master Six McLaughlin from H. H. Young, Local Agent. This is the first of these new 1923 Models sold in this district and is certainly a beautiful car.

Thanksgiving in Macleod churches for 1922 was especially good, both in attendance and giving. The Presbyterian church was decorated for the occasion with grains, flowers and fruit. Special music and an excellent sermon by the Rev. J. Kennedy on the day. In the Methodist church Rev. G. D. Armstrong preached on the Thanksgiving of other days, and the need of today for the same. The church building appeared as a great harvest field, with the sheaves of grain, vegetables, fruit and flowers. An excellent musical program was rendered under the able leadership of Mr. J. T. Doney.

Douglas Telfer of Calgary was in town last Sunday.

Miss M. Benson and H. McDonald of Nobleford, motored to Macleod last week-end.

Const. Sandall of the R. C. M. P., Lethbridge, was in Macleod on last Saturday.

Don't forget Saturday is "Poppy Day" and every patriotic and worthy citizen of Macleod will purchase one of these flowers from members of the G.W.V.A. on Saturday. They are a fitting emblem of the great sacrifice that was made by those brave lads who gave their all for the sake of the country, that is for your future peace and welfare. All the money realized by the sale of these poppies will be devoted to assisting all the dependents and relatives in Macleod of those heroes who gave their lives in the cause of Freedom in the Great War. Buy! Buy! Buy!

The annual Armistice Ball under the auspices of the Great War Veterans of Macleod was held at the Vets' Hall on Monday evening last. The hall was well-filled with lovers of the Terpsichorean, and the whole presented a picture well befitting the occasion, officers and men in full uniform of their different regiments and the ladies not to be denied equally attire, in magnificent latest New York and London creations. The hall was tastefully decorated and the orchestra is to be complimented on their discourse of up-to-date musical numbers. Thanks are due to the Ladies of the Next-of-Kin and other associations for their kindness in supplying the splendid luncheon that was served. Everyone present enjoyed themselves and voted it one of the best dances that has been held in the town for many a long day.

Groceries and Clothing

The Fruit and Vegetable Season holds out. It brings back recollections when it was a surprise sensation to see an apple, peach, pear or grapes, and bananas were only read about, not seen. Fruit would come in by the coach from Medicine Hat only two or three boxes at a time. Those would be retailed at 75c to $1.00 per lb. A cucumber would be $1.00, tomatoes $1.00 or $1.25 per pound, apples in the winter 25c each. Now, come and look in our window and see the same kind of fruit less than ten cents per pound.

DRY GOODS

Was almost in the same position. No sending to Eaton's in those days. An occasional traveller would show up with a limited display of Dry Goods which would take from 3 months to six to get here. We used local hand-made millinery then. The cow boys would pay $25.00 to $35.00 for a fancy riding boot. Silk hosiery and gloves were always in demand, especially in cold weather, as a rider of the plains had to have silk next to his skin. On either hands or feet nothing so common as cotton. Silk handkerchiefs were bought wholesale both for use and to send home to absent friends. Come now, and look into our store and see the variety of every day things that now creates no surprise, but in those buffalo days would be thought a sight that to travel hundreds of miles to see would tempt one and all.
